ALLENTOWN AGAIN DEFEATS PHILADELPHIA

Pottsville and Lancaster the Other State League Winners in the Games Played Saturday-Standing of the Clubs at the End of the Second Week-National and Eastern League Summaries-Base Ball Notes.

WO weeks of the second season in the State league championship season have already passed, with all the clubs except Philadelphia play-ing snappy ball. During the week passed Scranton has made the most creditable record of any of the clubs, winning all the games it played, and going from fourth place to the head of the list, which position it holds in conjunction with Allentown, each club having won nine games and lost three. Pottaville is helding second place, closely followed by Lancaster. Hazleton and Harrisburg are a tie for fourth place, followed by Reading and Philadelphia, the latter having won but one game, while it has lost eleven.

The following table gives the percentages of the clubs, together with the number of games wen and lost by each club, and their standing in the

SCRANTON MADE IT EIGHT STRAIGHT

Won Another Game from Hamleton at the Park Saturday.

Scranton won its eighth consecutive game at the park Saturday afternoon, the Hazleton club being the victim. It was not a particularly brilliant game, pitcher. but was marked throughout by hard

The rain which fell during a portion of the game caused the pitchers to loss control of the ball to a certain extent and the result was that both Hodson and Fee were touched up very freely. Fee suffered the most and, as he failed to receive anything like proper support, he practically went to pieces.

Then the spectators began to guy and jeer him. That is Fee's weak point. The audience apparently knew it and kept up a continuous fire that completely demoralized the Carbondale

The Hazieton players did not appear good terms with each other and at times their work was little better than a farce on ball playing. Then Fee would sulk and exposiulate with the players on the field and all the time Scrantons were piling up the base hits. Umpire Corcoran failed to appear on the grounds and Catcher Fairhurst, of Haziston and Pitcher Flanaghan were chosen to adjudicate. Mr. Fairhurst went to work with the idea that it was his duty to win the game at all haz-ards for Hazleton. His work was outrageous. Flanaghan thereupon proceeded to show Mr. Fairhurst that it was a game two could play at and thereafter the Hazieton youth was more impartial. The score: SCRANTON.

Pottsville will play in this city today and Jack Fee is "jofled" and guyed more than any player that comes to this city. It among him and the spectators know it. That's the secret of it.

Hodson is wanted by Pittsburg. The management of that club telephoned to Manager Swift on Saturday to know on what terms Hodson could be secured. Mr. Swift would not place a price on him. He wants to retain him on the team.

Fanning, Pittsburg's new pitcher, was in the National league in 1889 for just about seven intuities. In 1889 the Indianapolis testa gave him a trial against the Pittsburgs. He lasted one and one-balf innings. Con Daily, now with Brooklyn, ain and the cranks were very sore, in-ced. Now the club seems to have struck ts gait and, barring accidents or the sale of Hodson, should cut a very large figure n the struggle for the championship this season. All of the players have been lit-ting the ball hard recontly, Massey, Pat-chea and Regers particularly distinguish; ing themselves, while Staltz and Westlake are rivaling Phelan in the timeliness of heir hits. Hogan has shown a decided improvement in his batting during the week, while Planaghan is making a pull to rival Meaney and Jordan as a hard-hitting

If that is not long enough, a finish contest suits me if the financial arrangements are satisfactory. A ten-round contest is as good as a finish fight and $2,500 is not enough to pay for it. When I boxed Choynski in Boston the best man was not allowed to win. The fight was stopped when I thought I was a the best man was not allowed to win. The fight was stopped when I thought I was a winner. I am ready to meet Choynski again any time a club offers enough money for a finish fight or, in fact, any other man, bar Peter Jackson. John L. I stand as high in my class as another champion who is not worrying over eight, ten or twelve or even four-round matches. What would have been a large attendance at Saturday's meeting of the Gentlemen's Driving club was con-fined to about 600 spectators by the ominous appearance of the sky early in the afternoon and a prediction of rain. successful from every standpoint. The driving honors fell to Walter Jermyn, to the satisfaction of the railbirds and grandstand audience who had seen this clever borseman beaten out in many of the races of the two preesding matinees. Mr. Jermyn added three wins to his string with George Maddocks, Magnolia and with Mr. pencer's team, Mollie and Thief.

Magnolia's winning was particularly leasing from the fact that she is to be knacked down to the highest bidder next Saturday at the track. Many in yesterday's audience had pinned their faith to the mure in her two previous engagements only to see her beaten, when on quality alone she should have

With the exception of Friday, Scranton played in fine form last week and gave a steady exhibition of such hall playing as Scrantonians love to witness. During the first season it was hard to reconcile the frequent defeats the club sustained with the base hall talent it was known to contain and the cranks were very sore, indeed. Now the slow

George Maddocks was the popular election to win the road race and he did the trick without trouble, though he broke while in third position going up the back stretch in the first heat. Uncle Dan made a strong play to win both heats and had the crowd on edge passing and the action resulted in the interlocking of the wheels, both of which collapsed. Mr. Dale turned too quickly at the post in the same heat and his sulky came to grief. The achorse and he was scratched in the last two heats. Both heats were confined to Magnolia and Net as far as contest was concerned. Net made the first quarter of the first heat in 37½ while closely pressed by Mr. Jermyn's mare which might have won the heat had she not gone into the air in the last

Not also made the pace at a 28 clip-in the second heat, but Magnolia took the position, followed by Pee Dee, on the last turn. Here Not went into second position and had a battle royal with Magnolia in the stretch, but the black mare could not be thrown from her stride and won by an open length. The two mares again had it out in the third heat, with Duke an important factor, but in the stretch Net broke and Magnolia won hard pressed. The double team race was devoid of any particular excitement from the fact that either one or two teams were in the air most of the time, and at no particular period was there a lasting challenge. In the last heat Mollie and Thief were driven the mile out in Keeley had been touted to win the 3-minute race in a walk, and probably would have captured the first heat if he had been in a better position at the start and not been pocksted for the first furlong. He was within a half-length of Daisy coming home, but the pace had been too hot in making up distance and the little mare won by a length Kaslay kant Daisy converse. length. Keeley kept Daisy company in the last heat, but, more to the good driving of Mr. Seamans than the mure's speed, Daisy won in the fast time of 1.18‡. The mare was all pumped out at the finish.
